Introduction

The Woodward family is an old family in New Haven. While limited in scope, this collection gives some background to the family in the 20th century. The home at 1028 Townsend Avenue was sold in 2006 and the material in this collection was given to the Historical Society. Of special interest is the material about Frank Woodward who was a baseball player in both the Major and Minor Leagues.

There are no restrictions on access to the collection.
