VII. Biographical note: The West End Institute originally Mrs. Cady's School for Girls was founded in 1870 and existed till 1900. It was located at 99 Howe Street and in 1890 moved to 59 Hillhouse Ave. Primarily it was a day school which educated girls from kindergarten through intermediate and college preparatory courses. It did take in a limited number of girls as residents who had the added advantage of French conversation in the evenings. Many of its graduates entered the seven sisters colleges. Those that went to Connecticut College for Women, Class of 1921, established the Sarah L. Cady Fund which awarded a medal--$25--to the best student in English speech at the College.

VIII. Analysis: The collection contains material pertaining to the West End Institute and the Sarah L. Cady Fund. It consists of correspondence, memorabilia, photographs, books, penmanship and art exercise books. The loose material and photographs are in folders.

Two oversize items consisting of a diploma and photographs and additional photographs of students were added in August, 1980.
