53 individuals. The scrapbooks are arranged alphabetically by the name of the donor or compiler if known. If it is not known, the items have been filed under the following headings in chronological order: Civil War; New Haven Newspaper Clippings; Poetry and Essays. Most of these books are in poor shape; in several cases the covers and/or bindings had fallen off or were missing. In other cases the pages have been removed from the original bindings to better preserve them in acid-free folders and boxes, but the covers were left with the pages if they had any material on them.

* See Mf #138

The oldest item in the collection is a 1792 account book for Atwater and Townsend, Merchants, (see card catalog MSS #83 Jeremiah Atwater), into which poetry and essays collected from 1821-1825 newspapers have been pasted. Some of the pages in this ledger are uncovered and legible (Box XIX, Folder D.) The oldest item in a scrapbook are the clippings (1821-1825) of poetry and essays pasted into this book by an unknown compiler. The most recent items are news clippings collected by Simon Kleiner until his death in 1962 (Box VI, Folder E.)

Material under the heading of New Haven Colony Historical Society, (Box XII, XIII and XIV), had at one time been included with the archives of the Society. It consists of newspaper clippings compiled by staff or personnel of the Society, but was considered not properly part of the archives. When the archives were compiled in 1980 it was decided that this material would be more fitting as part of the Scrapbooks Collection.

The collection is housed in twenty boxes and four oversize items.
