VII. Biographical note: Latham Benjamin Lambert (1902-1986) was born in New Haven and lived there most of his life. He was married to Helen Elizabeth Beckley (1902-1981). They had two children: David Denison Lambert (b.1928) now living in Pacific Palisades, California, and Joan Lambert Laffin of Delmar, New York. In December 1981 he married Carolyn Fliers Gaines, widow of Pierce Welch Gaines. In this collection Mr. Lambert has traced his ancestors, and those of his first wife, back through their first settlers in America to their roots in royalty in Europe. He has left a well-documented history of the American family members starting with a land grant in 1668 carried through with a magnificent pedigree chart (which he prepared about 1980.) He has assembled this collection painstakingly and with great pride in his American ancestors. He and many of his ancestors have been very involved in New Haven and its history, while the Beckley family have been, and still are, in Southbury, Connecticut.

VIII. Analysis: This collection consists of three boxes of pedigree charts, photographs, genealogical notes, account/notebooks, deeds, wills and other legal documents, most of which are in very fine condition. All of this material has been compiled by Latham Benjamin Lambert (1902-1986). He has also prepared all of the charts and was responsible for the multitude of precise notes and identification of most of the photographs and other items. The oldest item in the collection is a photocopy of a grant of land to Sergeant Richard Beckley in 1668. All photocopies of old documents have been made from the originals in the Connecticut State Library. Material has been arranged alphabetically under the name of the individual or family concerned.
